Freeway Funds Set

Rights-of-Way Purchases Said Earmarked for Township

The State Highway Commission last Friday allocated an unspecified sum in its record $300,000,000 1954-55 budget for rights-of-way on the uncompleted portion of the Eastshore Freeway between Warm Springs and Mt. Eden.

No amount was listed, but District Engineer Joseph Sinclair told The Township Register a portion of the $2,744,000 allocated to rights-of-way purchases in Alameda County would be used to buy land in Washington Township.

This marks the first step to weld the final link in the giant Freeway, and gives the Township its first hint of when the link will be completed.

Sinclair said his staff is working on designs of interchanges, or "clover-leafs" in the Township, and expects to finish them within a year... These interchanges are at Whipple Road, Beard Road, Decoto Road, Central Avenue, PG&E Road, and Cook's Road.

In the big budget, Alameda County got $12,613,000; Los Angeles County received $55,00,000, while San Francisco drew $14,130,000. Projects approved in Alameda County were:

1. A 2½-mile strip west on U.S. 50 from Eastshore Freeway to Foothill Boulevard: $3,570,000.
2. A 2-mile strip west on U.S. 50 from the San Joaquin County line: $360,000.
3. Eastshore Freeway, Market to 11th Street in Oakland: $2,414,000; and University Avenue in Berkeley to El Cerrito Overhead: $3,110,000.
4. State Route 21, Hearst Ranch to Dublin, $115,000.
5. Route 227, Route 5 to Mountain Boulevard: $300,000.
6. The $2,744,000 item for rights-of-way.

Completion of the Eastshore Freeway had been asked by the Alameda County Highway Advisory Committee, headed by Supervisor Harry Bartell.

Sinclair explained that the sums set aside for rights-of-way purchases at specific locations are never disclosed, since owners are apt to base their asking price on them.

"We can't buy the whole strip at this time," the engineer said. "But we intend to buy enough to start with. The purchases will be along the entire length of the Township."

Sinclair said announcement of the Ford plant at Milpitas acted as a spur to completion of the Freeway.

FOSTER MEMORIAL ORGAN FOR CHURCH

The memory of Mildred Durham Foster will live on in Irvington through the purchase this week of a handsome church organ in her name through the contributions of friends and relatives.

The organ will be installed in the Community Presbyterian Church prior to Thanksgiving, the Rev. Cecil Rhoades, pastor, announced this week.

Purchased with $2100 given to the church in Mrs. Foster's memory, the instrument will be known as the Mildred Durham Foster Memorial organ.

Mrs. Foster, member of one of Washington Township's pioneer families, died in Chicago September 27 after a long illness.

The balance of $900 owing on the organ will be paid off over a period of time, the Rev. Mr. Rhoades said.

SUPES OK STUDY OF DECOTO WALKS

Alameda County Superivosrs last week ordered contracts drawn for a survey to determine whether a sidewalk district is possible for Decoto.

The survey was estimated to cost $10,000 by E. K. Sturgis, attorney representing backers of the proposed district. However Sturgis and Engineer J. H. Murphy said Murphy's firm will ask no fee, and only actual expenses if the district isn't formed.

Attorney Gene Rhodes, for opponents of the project, warned he will prepare a counter-petition, stating that "60 per cent of those who signed the pro-sidewalk petition have since changed their minds."

Manuel Hidalgo, president of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce, and a long-time pro-sidewalk leader, argued that the survey of cost is necessary before public opinion could be sounded out.

The contracts will be presented to the Supervisors December 1.

Annexation Ballot?

A special election to annex the Alviso District to the Union Sanitary District may be called in January.

USD Chairman George Coit told a meeting in the Alviso School last week that if enough signatures are obtained on petitions now being circulated, the poll may be called.

Coit said a $150,000 bond issue would be added to a $150,000 assessment to be raised by property-owners in the area. Cost of the sanitary district annexation would be about $15 a year apiece, plus a 40-cent maintenance tax. Installation of mains would cost property owners about $3.50 a front foot.

HIGHWAY MISHAP FATAL TO AUTOIST

Edwin H. Dargitz, 35, Centerville steelworker, was killed instantly Saturday night when he was struck by a car as he changed a tire on Highway 17 near Washington Union High School.

Dargitz — driving alone — had stopped to make the repair when he was hit by a southbound auto operated by Mrs. Neva M. Williams, 37, of Irvington. Mrs. Williams was treated for minor injuries at Fairmont Hospital. Highway patrolmen are continuing an investigation.

Dargitz was the brother of Mrs. Alice Bettencourt of Newark; uncle of Mrs. Yvonne Garcia of Newark, and great-uncle of Ronald, Sandra Lee, Joy Suzette and Kathleen Ann Garcia.

Private services are Wednesday from Chapel of the Palms, with burial in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

JOHANNA BODUTCH DIES AT PALO ALTO

Services were held Saturday for Mrs. Johanna Rose Bodutch, 82, who died Nov. 19 at Palo Alto. She was a native of Switzerland and a resident at the Masonic Home, Decoto, for the past several years. he was the wife of the late Max Bodutch and is survived by a son, John H. Bodutch of Crockett.

Rev. Cecil Rhoades officiated at services at Chapel of the Palms, Centerville. Closing services were private.

NEW INTEREST IN AREA PLANT SITES

A new upsurge of interest in small plant locations in the Metropolitan Oakland industrial area was reported today by Ralph E. Merritt, chairman of the Alameda County New Industries Committee, division of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

"This new interest, which is sparking the normally slack pre-holiday period, comes from all parts of the United States, including the Southern California area," said Merritt.

"For the most part inquiries are from small businesses seeking sites or lease purchase facilities from plants ranging from $100,000 to $1,000,000 in capital investment."

Merritt described several of the prospects as "red hot." He traced the new interest to recent promotion of the Metropolitan Oakland's national plant and payroll program which i s made possible by the Oakland City Council and the Alameda County Board of Supervisors. The agency has recently been stressing sites in Washington Township.

The promotion pointed up Metropolitan Oakland Area's favorable transportation costs and its strategic location in the center of one of the nation's fastest growing markets.

Merritt predicted the upsurge "would give considerable boost" to the Mertopolitan Oakland area's growth score of $2,513,500 in new plants and $11,354,000 in expansions for a total of $13,867,500 in capital investment.

CENTERVILLE MAN SIMPLIFIES MAKE-IT-YOURSELF TOYS FOR TOTS

Joe Clothier works hard to get people to do things the easy way.....

Clothier, who has lived in Centerville for the past two years, has devised an easy way for busy dads to build boats, cars and trains with their four-and-five-year-olds.

In the process, Joe expects to fill a lot of Christmas stockings in Washington Township and Hayward.

Clothier, a square-cut ex-Marine, works hard at his five-day-a-week job as senior control tower operator at Oakland Airport. But on days off, and in his spare time, he shapes and paints bits of wood in his garage workshop at 142 Parish Avenue.

Three months ago, he devised a small, simple truck body, plus separate cab, sides and wheels, gave the pieces to his son Joey, 7, and told Joey to put them together. Joey did—in about 10 minutes—and Mrs. Clothier told her husband he had something he ought to sell.

So for several weeks Joe, Mrs. Clothier — and Joey — sawed and planed and painted. At the end they had parts for 1,000 complete tugboats and trucks and trains—enough to send out to a half-dozen Township stores and a few in Hayward.

Hung on attractive display racks (also a Clothier product) the knocked-down toys — entitled "Small-Fry Buildits"—were an instant success. So much that Clothier worries how to keep up with the demand.

The brightly-colored "Buildits" sell for 59 cents, and Joe calculates they each take him perhaps 10 minutes to make. Two chain-store managers in Hayward wanted

2 Nominees for Newark Rec' Board

Petitions have been submitted to Governor Goodwin Knight nominating Neil Sheffield and Orvil Haynes for the vacancies on the executive board of the Newark Park Recreation and Parkway District.

Membership of the board has been increased from three to five by a recent act of the state legislature, with the two vacancies to be filled by the Governor.

Haynes is an employee of the Pacific States Steel Company, and Sheffield is with Westvaco Chemical. Both men live on Mayhews Landing Road in Newark. Present members of the board are Mrs. Norma Snow Willburn, president; Mrs. Lillian Costa, secretary; and Judson Taylor.

Director Robert Lamp reported at the district meeting Thursday that he had met with William Beck and Chester Gunn of the Youth Center Association, and Attorney Charles Snow, to negotiate a five-year lease for the Youth Center building on Ash Street effective January 1, 1954. It is planned to use the building for arts and crafts, leather work, and other activities that will be added to the curriculum later.

Scouts and Cubs who now use the building, as well as other groups who rent it for meetings, would continue to do so on the present basis.

Lamp asked that persons who are interested in forming an adult the young people this Wednesday, the evening before Thanksgiving. A basketball clinic will be held Wednesday morning, November 25, from 10 o'clock to noon for boys and girls aged 8 to 10, Friday from 10 years to 12 years, and Saturday from 12 to 15.

Max LaCombe of the Maple Roller Rink, Irvington, informed the board that his roller rink may be rented for skating parties, that a teacher is available, and that the rink is well supervised for children's parties.

THORNTON SCHOOL BIDS DECEMBER 17

Bids will be opened December 17 for completion of the Thornton Avenue School in Centerville.

Trustees met with Howard Rowe of the State Board of Education last Thursday, and then made this announcement. The addition will comprise four classrooms, two kindergartens, a "cafetorium," sanitary facilities, paving and landscaping.

The Board also decided to apply to the State to convert the Main Street school auditorium into a "cafetorium" by adding a kitchen, and to change the present cafeteria into district storage and maintenance facilities.

Also decided upon was application to the State for funds to start a third school at the Glenmoor site.

Orangeburg Bids Township Welcome to Big Plant

A spotless factory where smooth-running machines outnumber men—that's the Orangeburg plant near Newark, at which Townshippers got their first peek last week.

Visitors were impressed by the pipe factory's spaciousness and economical layout.

They also were impressed with the friendliness and cooperative spirit of the Orangeburg personnel—from President H. J. Robertson, heading a delegation of officers from New York, to the newest workmen, many of whom were recruited locally.

"We put everything we learned in 60 years of pipe-making into the Newark plant," confided President Robertson. Orangeburg has been making its unique pipe and conduit that long, in a factory at Orangeburg, N. Y., near the Jersey border.

On a tour conducted by Plant Manager C. G. Dubuque, visitors followed the manufacture of Orangeburg pipe from beginning to end. The factory isn't in full production yet, but it's getting there fast.

Starting on a sort of mezzanine second-floor, the audience saw how old newspapers, collected by the Salvation Army and similar agencies, are brought up a long conveyor belt and dumped into huge vats. In these, the papers are dissolved, returned to their original pulp.

Foreman Jack Barendregt explained the processes, showed where the pulp descends again to the first floor.

Returning to the second floor, visitors watched as Foreman Ken Lissi pointed out how the news-pulp comes up in sheets from the floor below, is rolled in layer upon layer around a pipe form.

The wet "cardboard" pipe then goes into a block-long oven to be dried. Its journey may take a full day. At the end of the oven, the dry cardboard is stacked in eight-foot lengths in a sort of cage.

Here Foreman John Nelson demonstrated how the cageful of pipe is dipped into vats full of coaltar pitch, a byproduct of coke-making. When a vacuum is created in the vats, the tarry substance rushes into the cardboard, thoroughly impregnating it, making it liquid-proof, and four times as heavy as before.

The pipe finally is dried, taken to a species of lathe for shaping its ends so they can be fitted with couplings. Then it is ready for shipment.

Vice-President Jas. Connell explained Orangeburg produces electrical conduit too, in smaller diameters than the four- and six-inch pipe. Advantages of fibre pipe, he said, are (1) it is cheaper than metal pipe, (2) it is lighter and easier to cut and handle than clay pipe. It cannot be used under pressure, however.

Orangeburg came to Newark, according to Robertson, because its West Coast market was expanding, and it wanted to save shipping charges.

One interesting feature of the Newark plant: it is designed so that its production can be doubled without a structural change. For instance, there is space for a twin to the huge oven, right beside it.

Maintenance Foreman Carl Palacio oversees a colorful network of interior pipes—each a different bright color denoting what it carries: gas, oil, water, steam, etc. There is a testing lab, a handsome lunch room and shower room for employees, and a large shipping dock.

Hundreds of Townshippers, plus dignitaries from all over the Bay Area, lunched on Tuesday and Wednesday in the latter space, enjoying a sumptuous smorgabord provided by Orangeburg to mark its debut, the newest of this area's industries.

MRS. GUADALUPE RODRIGUES DIES

Fidel Rodriguez, a Marine stationed at Camp Pendleton. She is also survived by 15 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were by Berge Mortuary Company, Niles. Mass was said at Holy Rosary Church, Decoto, with interment at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

...and heaven (well, almost) for parents who travel with children.

Children love to ride on S. P. trains because it's fun. And parents like to travel on S. P. because they can relax and enjoy themselves—thanks to the special children's services we provide.

For instance: If baby's bottle needs warming, your Pullman porter or Coffee Shop steward will cheerfully get it done. And for the junior gourmet, we have a wonderful Children's Menu with specially prepared meals and moppet-sized servings. Mom and Dad can share their regular meals with their children, too—we'll gladly furnish extra plates and silverware.

On most of our trains, little fellows under 5 ride free. Older little people, from 5 through 11, ride for half fare when accompanied by a grown-up. (On a few of our trains, there is a small reserved seat charge that applies to anyone big enough to occupy a seat.)

Meantime, we've been thinking about your comfort, too. Chair Cars on Southern Pacific's streamliners were built with just that in mind. No-glare fluorescent lighting. Soft-as-a-cloud foam-rubber seats. Lots of leg room and move-around room. Extra large windows. Feather-touch doors. Spacious washrooms.

We baby your freight, too—
And S. P.'s gentle freight handling doesn't cost much, either. On an average, we move a ton of things for only 1.45 cents a mile. We have more miles of line serving more Western cities and towns than any other railroad. So, for fast, efficient and dependable freight service—whether carloads or l. c. l.—call our nearest agent.

THERE WILL BE a new butcher shop in Decoto by December 1. It will be located at 606 E Street and will be operated by R. E. Cardunes. This shop will feature prepared barbecue meats.

BY THE TIME you read this, the Decoto Star Bakery will be opened for business. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. David Escobar, formerly of Irvington. The Decoto Star is located on Tenth Street, in the building formerly occupied by the drug store. They plan to be open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m.

MR. and MRS. JOHN CROSBY and family motored to Marysville to visit friends over the week-end.

MR. and MRS. DON MARTIN and two sons, Donny and Cookie, went fishing at Ria Vista. Their catch? Five bass.

MR. and MRS. FRANK BRAGA have been making daily visits to Oakland visiting their son-in-law, who is in the hospital.

HOLIDAYS are coming and everybody has plans. Would you like to share them? If you have news or comments, I would appreciate hearing them. Call Decoto 2-7944.

SALVADORE ALVAREZ of the Alvarez Market on Fifth Street plans to be in his new building by November 29. The market will be located at the corner of Sixth and E Streets.

LITTLE three-year-old Arnold Quintana is having his share of bad luck these days. Last week he had his tonsils out and this week he has a serious cold and has to remain in bed. Arnold is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mognaga of Whipple Road.

HOLY ROSARY GUILD held its monthly card party at the church last week due to Thanksgiving. Winning first prize was Mrs. E. Cardoza of Niles.

I SURE felt silly phoning Mrs. Betty Margarido for Girl Scout news. She tells me she isn't the leader any more but now is District chairman of the Township. The chairmen are making tray favors such as place cards, cups, and other things for Thanksgiving that will be taken to the Masonic Home. These favors will be on the dinner trays Thanksgiving Day. Its great to know these old folks will be remembered on the holiday.

STARTING a week from Wednesday, the Decoto School will begin its dental survey. School children will have their teeth inspected by Dr. Walter E. Dang of Decoto. Inspection will be on Wednesday mornings. Report of the child's teeth will be sent home at a later date.

REPORT CARDS from the Decoto Schools will be given out on November 30. Rainy day sessions will continue again this year if necessary.

THE DECOTO SCHOOL cafeteria is keeping busy these days; their door is now open for the Barnard School children. Mr. Krump adds on bad-weather days they will be brought from Barnard School by bus. The hot lunch price remains at $1 a week or 20 cents a day.

BARNARD PTA held its monthly meeting and teachers and pupils from Barnard worked together and their subject was art. The teachers explained the subject and the pupils demonstrated. Mrs. J. E. Hicks of Hillview, president of the PTA, said plans are being made for the next meeting and will be printed at a later date.

MR. and MRS. OSCAR VASCARRA and their new baby have moved into their beautiful new home located on Seventh Street. Mrs. Vascarra is the former Elibia Castro. Her parents formerly owned Castro's Market on Sixth Street, but Mr. and Mrs. Castro have sold their market and will move out soon to take a rest. Raymond Berrios, also of 6th Street, will be the new owner. It was not disclosed just when he intends to take over.

I PHONED little Bobby Hidalgo yesterday to see what the Boy Scouts are planning and it seems everything is at a standstill right now and the boys are between scoutmasters. Their former scoutmaster has left them for another job. Bobby says they are looking for someone to fill the job. Do you know anybody who would like to volunteer?

NOT ONLY people go on vacations; so do storks! According to the Decoto Medical Clinic the last child was born on November 8.

Fremont's 34-7 Win Closes Grid Season for Washington Huskies

By BOB HIRD

The muscular Fremont Indians carried too many tomahawks for Washington Hi in the season's closer last Friday, and the Tribe scalped the game Huskies by a 34-7 score.

Held to a 7-0 count in the first half by an outmanned but battling Husky eleven, the Sunnyvale club exploded for four touchdowns in the final stanza.

The Orange-and-Black staved off a whitewash, however, when with two minutes left, Frank Velarde hit Carl Von Euw, scrappy end, with a 32-yard pass for six points. Art Goularte converted.

The win assured the Indians of at least a tie for the 1953 SCVAL crown. Campbell must beat Los Gatos on Thanksgiving Day to earn a co-championship.

The loss left Washington with a 2-5-1 record for the season, and marked the final game for 16 seniors.

The contest started slowly, with Washington throwing back Fremont threats until Jim Manson, Sunnyvale's candidate for all-SCVAL honors, climaxed a first-quarter drive to smash over from the four.

The Indian offensive got rolling after the half, however. Fremont went 65 yards in a series of plunges as soon as it got its hands on the pigskin, finally sending Glenn Rutt around right end for 19 yards and the score.

Just before the third quarter ended, Manson faked an end run and flipped to Jerry Hitchman for another TD. Three minutes into the fourth canto, Hitchman picked up another six as he skittered 24 yards around right end. Jim Goularte climaxed the final Fremont drive, 80 yards, by going off tackle for 17 yards and the finishing tally.

Score by quarters:

Washington	0	0	0	7	— 7
Fremont	7	0	14	13	—34

Alpine County had 12 farms in 1950, according to the Census of Agriculture.

16 SENIORS PLAY LAST GRID MATCH

Sixteen seniors played their last football game for Coach Clyde Voorhees Friday against Fremont.

The departing Huskies are: Carl Von Euw, Clarence Souza, Art Goularte, Ron Flatt, Allan Olk, Frank Velarde, Dan Owen, John Arenaz, Laurel Mayer Amado Saenz, Larry Garcia, Dan Rodarte, Leon Mings, Raul Orozco, Ernie Delgado and Don Santos.

Von Euw and Souza were named co-captains for the season following the game.

PUPS END SEASON WITH 13-0 WIN OVER PAPOOSES

Flashing a powerful running attack in their last game of the season, Washington Hi's Pups turned back once-beaten Fremont's B team by a 13-0 count at Sunnyvale Friday night.

Ernie Soto plowed five yards over tackle for the first touchdown midway in the opening quarter, and LaVerne Miller added the extra point. The score crowned a 70-yard sustained march.

Late in the third quarter, Quarterback Bob Hird sneaked over from the one-yard line to end the scoring.

The win capped a 4-3-1 season for Coach Gene Johnson's charges. Seniors who played their final game for the Pups included Hird, Ray Orozco, Art Anchundo, Don Martin and Junior Mahusay.

Score by quarters:

Washington	7	0	6	0	—13

Seidel Defends Radio in Official Car in Reply to Centerville C. of C.

Cracking back at the Centerville Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Vaughn D. Seidel, Alameda County school superintendent, last week answered criticism on why his official county car is equipped with a two-way radio. He said the equipment is "for the welfare and ultimate savings of the taxpayers."

His explanation was in a letter to the Board of Supervisors which had forwarded a protest from the Centerville Chamber of Commerce on reports that the car was telephone-radio equipped.

Dr. Seidel explained:

"First, I do not have both a telephone and a two-way radio in my car. No telephone communication installation was ever made.

Second, I do have a two-way radio installed in the car (1950 Chrysler New Yorker) that you assigned to my department. The radio was purchased with county funds and requisitioned through the county purchasing agent. It was installed by the sheriff's radio station in April, 1951. I asked for this equipment for two reasons and both reasons are for the welfare and ultimate savings of the taxpayers.

"First, the county superintendent of schools has a very significant part in the civilan defense program; I am chairman of the school division. It is my job to keep all of the schools in Alameda County alterted for the safety of the youngsters and to see that the school facilities may be used to the best advantage in case of an emergency. Immediate communication is essential.

"Second, the duties of the county superintendent of schools keep me away from my desk a large part of the time. My office staff is housed at four different locations. There are more than 200 school houses in our county, and there are many meetings which must be attended. With a two-way radio in my official car, I am able to keep in touch with my secretary practically all the time.

"Both mileage and telephone costs are reduced because long-distance calls are made less frequently. Unnecessary trips are eliminated, and better use of my time is possible. I feel that the cost of this equipment is paid for over and over again by these savings."

VISITS SON

Mrs. Roy Bell of Norwalk visited her son, Rev. William E. East and family last week-end. She made the trip especially to see her new grandson, David Eugene East.

WATER CRISIS IN TOWNSHIP: MILLER

Southern Alameda County faces "a serious water crisis," Congressman George P. Miller warned the Washington Township Democratic Club here last week.

Miller declared the crisis involves (1) water shortages, (2) increasing salt-water seepage underground, and (2) high water rates.

"At least one large industry which planned to establish in this area located, instead, in Southern California because of higher water rates here," the Congressman announced.

Miller said county engineers are studying a plan to erect a salt water barrier on the Sacramento River to divert fresh water to an underground lake. Thought is also being given to the possibility of getting surplus water from the Central Valley Project.

He suggested citizens of the southern part of the county should "actively attack" the problem.

The State Marine Hospital in San Francisco started in 1850.

INDIVIDUAL SAID KEY TO DEMOCRACY

America can fight Communism best "by preserving the principle that each individual's personality is a sacred thing."

This was the message of Dr. Paul H. Buchholz, minister and former college president, as delivered Thursday to the Rotary Club.

Dr. Buchholz declared:

"Personal dignity—the feeling that he is an individual and not a creature subordinate to some huge State—is one of the basic urges of mankind.

"It lies in the heart of religion and democracy alike. We must make other peoples know that's what we stand for, and then we won't need huge armies or an atom bomb."

The educator stressed it is a responsibility of citizenship in a democracy to make everyone understand this fact, by words and deeds.

He was introduced by D. A. Gildersleeve.

OUR READERS WRITE . . .

Editor, Sir:

As a newcomer to Niles, I make bold to ask some questions about the local steel strike which both puzzles and distresses me. In attempting to ascertain the facts, I find about as many explanations as explainers. But one point stands out crystal clear: it is a miserable, wreched business which almost nobody wants. Despite that, however, I'm dismayed to note that nothing is being done about it—save some inconclusive talks between the disputants. Why don't we get aroused and really try to do something? Here we are just passively accepting the situation with fatalism and resignation. Why aren't there editorials and letters to the editor about it? Why aren't there sermons being preached about it? Why aren't there offers to mediate? Seems like all we do is grumble and shrug our shoulders.

I do not claim to know about the legal and technical angles involved. But I can't believe the obstacles to an early settlement are insuperable. These questions come to mind: (1) In our land of freedoms what about a man's freedom to work when he wants to? What about our kids' freedom to have a joyous Christmas? We could go on with similar questions. (2) Is it really the desire of the majority of workers to continue the walkout? If not, why does it continue? (3) Why can't work continue while negotiations proceed? (4) If this, for some reason, is impossible, why can't some compromise be speedily reached—for nearly all such disputes are eventually settled by compromise?

As a citizen of Niles, interested in the welfare of my fellow citizens, I'd like to find someone with the answer to these questions. As a Christian minister, may I point out (1) Christ came that we might have abundant life. That includes, in my thinking, steady employment and the necessities of life. (2) Christ's teachings emphasize the importance of reconciliation where there is strife. The longer such trouble persists the greater wax the unChristian attitudes—resentment, prejudice, perhaps even hatred.

For this reason I would be willing to serve as one of any kind of arbitration committee which might be set up in achieving a settlement. Surely there must be others so minded. I cannot believe the citizens of Niles have no alternative except to stand idly by as saddened and bewildered spectators while this walkout proceeds to its inevitable fruitage—bitterness, suffering and despair.

REV. C. W. KIRKPATRICK

DRUNK DRIVING

Drinking drivers cause an undue proportion of all fatal and injury accidents in California. These drivers include those obviously drunk and those who claim they just had "one or two." Tests prove that even one or two drinks inject enough alcohol into the human system to slow up its reaction and upset the judgment the driver may need to prevent an accident. The California State Automobile Association warns, "If you drive, don't drink. If you drink, don't drive."

California was the leading honey producing state in 1952.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving is not merely a day or a season of the year; it's an attitude which we shall do well to cultivate every day of the year.

The spirit of thankfulness is a simple, but very vital thing. Acknowledging our benefits and blessings enables us to become aware of, and receive, more. Gratitude is like the open hand—ready to give and ready to receive. The closed hand indicates a closed mind, closed to the infinite possibilities of good while it clings fearfully to its possessions.

Sometimes it isn't easy to feel thankful, especially when our trials and troubles seem to mount while our benefits appear to dwindle. But as individuals and as a nation we are fortunate, indeed. Ours is a land of abundance, of fertile fields, rich mines and vast forests. But even more, ours is a nation blessed with imagination, initiative and daring that have made possible the building and maintaining of great cities and factories and farms from which our unprecedented productiveness and high standard of living are derived.

This Thanksgiving we can be even more thankful than usual for the end of the fighting in Korea. Although still separated from some of our GIs, we know, at least, that they are not sitting out Thanksgiving in a foxhole while enemy shells drop around them.

Today, as in the time when the first Thanksgiving was celebrated, there are many dangers, many uncertainties. But if we, like the Pilgrims, let thankfulness for the past give us courage for the future, we shall meet and master every problem.

DECOTO LAD HAS TIE TO TB SEALS

The joyful youngster portrayed on the 1953 Christmas Seal, which was delivered to homes throughout Alameda County last week, has come to life in Decoto.

As Christmas Seal child, seven-year-old Mike Rodriquez of Decoto is the inspiration to volunteers working to raise funds for continuation of TB control activities of the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

And much like another lad whom Christmas Seal history credits with convincing a newspaper columnist back in 1907 that the idea of selling penny holiday stickers would meet with public approval because it put participation in the TB fight within everyone's reach, Mike has a good idea of what TB is all about.

"Gimme one—my sister's got it," Leigh Mitchell Hodges of the Philadelphia North American, heard a tiny newsboy say at the first Christmas Seal sale in 1907, and, changing only one word, young Mike Rodriquez could make the same statement in 1953.

One of his sisters, 11-year-old Elizabeth Rodriquez, had TB. She was hospitalized at Arroyo del Valle in Livermore for 15 months. Recovered now she's been home at 404 Seventh Street, Decoto, with her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rodriquez, brothers Mike, 7, and Ronnie, 5, and sister Marie, 10, since June.

The 1953 sale of the penny Christmas Seals is being directed in Southern Alameda County by Edward E. Enos, Niles postmaster, and special seal sale committees in the various communities in the area.

Persons who do not receive the seals in the mail this week may obtain them by calling or writing the TB Association, 121 East 11th Street, Oakland, TWinoaks 3-6171.

SUZY SEZ...

The oldest child of the family remarked in my ear that having to be a good example to the younger members takes most of the fun out of life. I remember I felt the same way, but it still seems to work when you tell Buster he can't go out in the rain minus boots and coat, because "big brother is wearing his." Big brother most likely will remove them when he gets around the corner.

* * * *

A neighbor has just discovered post cards, and says she is sending them to all her friends, using the double "reply-request" type. She sends and receives news much quicker that way, but every now and then she has a bit of gossip she just has to hide inside an envelope.

* * * *

During the day, when it seems you have a dozen things to do at once, try using the timer on your kitchen stove to remind you of jobs left undone. For example, when sprinkling the grass, set the buzzer to ring in 15 minutes, and you won't waste water by having it run into the street. Set the clock, too, to ring five minutes before school bus time, to avoid that last-second rush by youngsters who forget to look at the clock. Finally, in giving a home permanent, "time" its action to be accurate, in spite of interruptions.

* * * *

It annoys me no end to see those girdle ads which show a slim Size Nine cutie who doesn't need one. The dress stylists are no better, when they display the new Spring and Summer Fashions on a model that is so thin she would blow away in a slight breeze, and is all of five-feet 11 inches tall. (The average female in the United States is five feet five inches or under, and slightly over-weight, according to statistics.) It takes a lot of imagination to picture myself in one of them.

* * * *

Well, the children have come up with a new one. They want surprise cookies for supper. The surprise is a penny in each cookie.

* * * *

For a quick dessert, without pennies, prepare a box of vanilla pudding, and fix separately a box of quick-cooking rice. Pour pudding over rice, add some raisins and stand back. The whole family will enjoy that one.

* * * *

I heard yesterday of a woman that was really surprised with her birthday surprise party. In fact she was wearing curlers and a robe when the guests arrived. The opposite situation is that of another friend, who helped plan her surprise shower, even helping to write the invitations!

* * * *

My six-year-old television fan has finally realized that all the blood and mayhem he sees is faked. An older friend told him that the good guys pretend to be hurt, but are not; and the bad guys get hurt, but not much. Until this dawned on our boy, it was hard to make him believe his favorites would always recover in time for the next show.

* * * *

Next time you make curtains, try using double fabric for the gathered valance and it will hang much better. Also, many home makers are using the "tier" curtains, and have discovered that the regular curtain rods sag on wide windows. Instead, try using a brass rod, available in hardware stores, and much stronger than conventional rods.

* * * *

Remember, the children will not remember how hard you worked to keep the house neat and clean, but will recall the times you greeted them with a smile even in the midst of the busiest day. Take a few minutes each day to find out how each child is getting along, and in later years you will be surprised to discover that you have become a real friend to the youngsters.

* * * *

No matter how it may look to you, that picture your kindergartner made is a thing of beauty. To add to his enjoyment of it, hang it in his room with masking tape. Better yet, invest a dollar in a pin-up board for all his art treasures.

* * * *

MEET A CENTERVILLE TOYMAKER

him to send samples East to their home offices, but Joe refuses. Says he:

"They'd want 100,000 a month—and I've got no way to handle that. With a couple of kids, maybe I could turn out 5000 a month—that's all."

Joe lays the success of "Buildits" to the fact that most "make-it-yourself" kits are too complicated for small youngsters. The "Buildits" are simple enough for a tot to put together, using only a tack-hammer and the nails that come in the cellophane "Buildit" package.

The package carries the simplest possible directions, in the form of a picture which Joe stamps on each envelope.

"Darn it, you know it takes the average grown-up 15 or 20 hours to help his kid put together one of these model planes or ships," Joe says. "Men don't have the time nowadays."

Clothier's idea fits in perfectly with his hobby, for he is about the handiest man with woodworking tools in Centerville. Appenticed to a cabinetmaker as a boy in Kansas, he ran his own furniture shop in Wisconsin for a time. For the past 12 years, however, he has been working his way to the top of the heap in the skilled and highly-exclusive fraternity of airport control tower operators.

Clothier is an incorrigible inventor. Several years ago he digested 168 manuals on highway safety regulations in the 48 States. Then he reduced them to a three-ply circular chart, not five inches across, by means of which any motorist can refer in a moment to the laws.

Clothier made the same type of spinning pocket-piece for airplane pilots. He has hopes the copyrighted items may find a great sale.

Meantime, he occupies himself with the popular "Buildits" and with his job as chairman of the building committee of the Centerville Presbyterian Church.

A round peg in a round hole, as far as the latter job is concerned, Joe and his fellow churchmen literally built the new Presbyterian Sunday School from the ground up. He took his woodworking tools to the site, next to the 10-year-old church, and shaped the cornices and mouldings on the spot.
